titute impediments in the normalization of relations between the two countries.

(b) India has taken a number of initiatives to normalize relations with Pakistan in accordance with the letter and spirit of the Simla Agreement.

(c) Indo-Pak relations have been hampered by several negative actions on the part of Pakistan, such as its involvement with extremist activities directed against India, its aggressive pursuit of a weapons-oriented nuclear programme, its scramble for sophisticated weapons and its unwillingness to permit the expansion of people-to-people contacts between the two countries.
